Wild Karelian forest reindeer are found only in Finland and some parts of Russia near the Finnish border. It was almost extinct in Finland in the early 20th century, but in the 1940s and 1950s, some herds migrated from the territory of the then Soviet Union to boost the Finnish population, which grew until 2001, when the number in the Kainuu region was estimated at 1,700 individuals. Only a few permits are issued annually to hunt wild reindeer, even more rare are the permits for hunting adult males! This hunt is really only for the most demanding hunters who are willing to put up with rare and rare trophies of game species with a limited habitat. The best hunting season is during the first snow in mid-November. At that time, herds of wild forest reindeer move to the wintering grounds accompanied by dominant bulls. Frozen trees and a beautiful clear blue sky will be a truly unique backdrop for this extraordinary hunting experience. Arrival at the airport in Joensuu and then a 1.5-hour off-road car ride to the place of accommodation in stylish cabins by the lake with a traditional Finnish sauna.
